

The information in GrazingInfo Ltd does not replace the individual on site, or helpful advice of veterinarians (vets) doctors and/or pharmacists.

When seeking help or treatment, never ignore professional medical advice. If you think you may have a medical emergency, call your doctor or your 111, 911, 000 number immediately.

However, in today's world of rapid pace, where medical advice is given in 15 minutes, medical centre visits and physicians are too busy to read and learn from the prevention information published, so the patient and their loved ones, must not take a passive role and assume that all that can be done is being done. GrazingInfo has helped many. Read the 100 Testimonials.

Information comes from successful experiences in human health and farming in many countries.

Warning

Information and suggestions must be used sensibly, with care, and not in excess. Too much of anything can be worse than not enough. Swallow too much water and you'll drown.

Obviously contributors and writers in GrazingInfo Ltd accept no responsibility for interpretations made, some when using the information, because people, farms and animal situations are all different.

Also, for yours, your family's and the care of others, your insurance should cover all possibilities. Please keep us informed, if we can help.